Forensic Collection

We offer a global network of data collection experts with decades of experience who can be dispatched 24/7. We support In-Person, Remote and Self-Collection processes and can also assist in the recovery of deleted files, password cracking, online email recovery, and investigative analysis with the results compiled into comprehensive reports.

Data Migration

With increasing regularity, our clients are asking us to migrate entire data instances held by other eDiscovery vendors into our environment. Morae recently migrated one of the largest financial sector entities and one of the largest oil/gas sector entities, both of which included top-fold, high-stakes matters in the transfer.

Legal Hold

Our team has years of experience in legal hold management and the implementation and use of leading legal hold technologies, including Exterro's Legal Hold, IBM's Atlas, Zapproved's Legal Hold Pro and Relativity Legal Hold, among others.

GDPR, CCPA, DSAR, and Data Protection

GDPR and CCPA have ushered in an assortment of regulations mandating, among other requirements, that entities understand the contents and interworking of their business and customer agreements. Morae's discovery solutions ensure adherence with these requirements. Morae has also handled hundreds of DSAR matters for dozens of our clients. We've developed highly efficient workflows, applied by DSAR-specialized project managers, and have built out a team of over 200 experienced DSAR reviewers around the world.

Redaction

Morae helps clients to redact sensitive or confidential data in disclosure to external parties. We're equipped to deploy Blackout, an automated redaction tool that plugs in directly to Relativity and saves time and money in the redaction workflow.

Production

We have produced to every major regulator in the world and countless private third parties. Our robust production QC processes ensure that we disclose only what client and counsel intend and that production is delivered promptly according to specification.

Managed Review

Drive greater efficiency and results for document review with Managed Review from Morae. We bring together our document review subject matter and project management expertise with integrated processes, technology, and communications enabling us to continuously improve, innovate, and enhance our capabilities and level of client service. Our service delivery is tightly integrated with your in-house and outside counsel and managed by a team of senior US attorneys. Each of our managing attorneys has eight to nineteen years' experience in litigation, investigations, and M&A as associates and partners in major US law firms.

We can also accommodate foreign language reviews, including but not limited to Arabic, Bulgarian, Chinese, Czech, Danish, English, French, German, Hebrew, Hindi, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Swedish, Vietnamese. Other languages are available upon request. Machine Translation is available too.

Policy Design and Implementation

Challenging the traditional EDRM-based linear approach, our professionals rely on early analytics, streamlining document reviews and minimizing required resources throughout the project. Our methodology is designed to leverage predictive coding and other analytical tools to minimize volume, cycle time and cost while increasing measurable quality. Our professionals develop strategies based on particular experiences using tried-and-tested technologies, resulting in custom, cost-effective solutions and optimum performance.

Workflow Development & Special Projects

Morae is adaptable to designing and deploying differing workflows – from simple search terms, threading, and review – to more nuanced workflows that leverage analytics or subject matter insight. Our workflows improve accuracy and pace, front load the discovery of matter-critical content, and help clients minimize their costs.

Fast-tracked Regulatory Investigations

Morae's high-power solution framework is purpose-built for ingesting, analyzing, and producing significant volumes of data on tight timeframes. Our approach, toolset and team of experienced professionals are uniquely capable of meeting the demands of second requests and have been thoroughly proven on some of the most demanding regulatory investigations in recent years. While we will tailor our approach to the specific requirements and strategic needs of our clients, we also operate from a playbook of principles and methodologies for regulatory requests. The key tenets are strong communication, process driven solutions to manage risk factors, and advanced analytics to streamline review for timely delivery.
