Company Description
MedBrief was founded in 2017 by three eDiscovery Consultants, two based in the UK and one in South Africa. The Company has been in operation since 2011 but only became a separate entity as a result of an MBO from a large UK based eDiscovery vendor. Since 2017 both the Company and the demand for our services have grown significantly, from an initial team of 5 we now have over 50 clinical and administrative staff based between the UK and South Africa, a team that is growing all the time. We are focused solely on the Healthcare litigation industry, providing software and services which assist in the process, distribution and review of medical files and radiology images. Our software is unique - we don't seek to compete with the mainstream eDiscovery review applications, but to compliment them or offer an alternative in circumstances where requirements change. Our software and services are currently being used in over 12,000 clinical negligence and personal injury matters for firms across the UK together with a number of international mass tort and product recall cases for international clients. Our clients come from a range of industries, while most are law firms we also work directly and indirectly with NHS Hospitals, medical product manufacturers and insurance companies.
Vendor Offerings
MedBrief Secure Review
MedBrief is both a Company and a piece of software, we own all of our IP and have an in-house development team. The services we provide focus on improving security an efficiency in healthcare litigation. We are not an eDiscovery company, however we have a deep understanding of eDiscovery having spent many years working within the industry. Our objective is to provide complimentary services specifically in respect of healthcare litigation in circumstances where using traditional eDiscovery software is often not appropriate. The application provides review functionality for both scanned and native document types together with the radiology images that accompany them. In addition to the software we also provide the following services to Healthcare litigation teams: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Obtaining of Medical Records hosting and distribution.</li><li>• Indexing and pagination of Medical Records.</li><li>• Scanning, pagination and OCR.</li><li>• Hosting of Medical records, radiology and other documents.</li><li>• Preparation of medical chronologies, summaries and reports.</li></ul>
